

Troopers Investigating Shooting- Rehoboth Beach

Rehoboth Beach-The Delaware State Police are currently investigating a shooting that occurred late last evening.

The preliminary investigation has determined that the incident occurred on Monday, February 12, 2018 at approximately 10:57 p.m. when Troopers were dispatched to the 19000 block of Norwood Street for a reported shooting. Upon arrival to the scene, it was determined that a 56-year-old man of Rehoboth Beach had been shot while he was inside of his residence. Further investigation revealed that shots had been fired at the residence in which a few bullets had traveled through the house striking the 56-year-old victim twice.

The 56-year-old victim sustained a gunshot wound to his upper torso and upper extremity. Also in the residence were two other adults and a child who were not injured as a result of this incident.

The 56-year-old victim was transported to a local area hospital where he was admitted with non-life threatening injuries.

No suspect information could be provided at this time.
